INTRODUCTION

Each year brings some changes in the activities of our church at home and abroad. Generally these changes are due to the growth and expansion of the Lord's work. The function of the Year Book is to give a general scope of the various major activities of the church and to put on record the progress made in the different avenues of the Lord's work. In one sense each issue of the Year Book is a record book. It is a record of the work of various boards and committees; of the growth and progress of the seventeen conference districts at home and abroad; and of the many missionary activities of the church.

Besides the informative and interesting articles about the work of the general boards of the church there is an article on our Young People's Bible Meeting work by Bro. J. Irvin Lehman, a member of the Young People's Topic Committee. Bro. C. B. Shoemaker, Secretary-Treasurer of the Mennonite Publishing House, writes an article on recent Mennonite Publications. Other articles of interest and value could also be mentioned.

The missionary activities of the church continue to increase. A number of new mission stations have been added to the list of Home Missions. The increase in mission contributions has brought the total contributions for the year $10,494.82 higher than the year 1934, and $26,489.73 higher than the year 1935. Because of the drought and flood-stricken conditions in our country during last year there has been a very noticeable increase in relief funds in the past year. We receive and enjoy the material and spiritual blessings from a loving Father's hand only insofar as we are willing to pass them on to our needy fellow men.

The substantial increase over last year of thirty-one Sunday schools is encouraging. Sunday-school work is one of the most important and most effective evangelistic agencies of the church. May the church feel the burden of teaching the Bible to the youth of the land.

We notice, too, by examining a few figures on page 76 that there has been growth in the membership of our branch of the Mennonite Church. The total membership now is 54,720, a gain of 836 over last year. In the United States alone the membership is 47,941; a gain of 688 over last year. In Canada the membership last year was 4,738; this year 4,865; a gain of 127. We trust that every member's name may be found not only in perishable record books but also in the Eternal Book of Life.

The Summary of Events for 1936 shows that a number of our ordained church officers and prominent church workers have left vacancies to be filled by others. Short biographical sketches of two outstanding leaders, who were well known and loved by the church at home and abroad, appear in this issue—Bro. J. A. Ressler and Bro. J. S. Shoemaker.

All the statistical matter of the Year Book has been made as exact as possible. Credit is due those who have so faithfully and promptly responded in sending in their reports. Each year an attempt is made to make the Year Book better serve the church at large. We welcome all suggestions.

May the Lord continue to bless every church activity. May every member live as one who has been born anew and as one who has dedicated his life to the work and will of God.

THE ACTIVITIES OF THE MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES FOR THE YEAR 1936

By J. N. Kaufman

The Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities carries on its responsible tasks through the following avenues: The Annual Meeting where all matters of policy and general administration are decided upon; the Executive Committee of the General Board which carries heavy responsibilities along financial and interim Board business; the Mission Committee which examines and passes upon missionary candidates for the various fields; the Relief Committee; the Mission Study Course Committee; and the General Sewing Circle Committee. The activities of the Mission Board, therefore, are the activities of the organizations and committees above mentioned.

In its last annual meeting the Mission Board took special action relative to opening work among the Mexican people in Southwestern United States. Prior to this action a tour of investigation had been made for the purpose of ascertaining needs, probable locations of mission centers, and types of work which might prove the most effective and the best methods of carrying on the work. Bro. and Sister T. K. Hershey were appointed to take supervisory charge of the work in its initial stages. They are located at Tuleta, Tex., as their headquarters. This venture merits the prayers and support of the whole church.

Are we carrying on the work of the Mission Board to the best interests of the kingdom? Are we accomplishing what should be done, taking into consideration the large number of workers in the various fields, and the large expenditure of time, energy, and money involved? Does God approve all that the church is attempting to do through the organization of the Board?

In order to find answers to these and other questions of similar nature which have been forcing themselves upon the attention of the Board, a carefully selected committee made investigations, held interviews, prepared questionnaires, and solicited opinions from a large variety of sources both at home and abroad. If methods of administration can be improved, if more and better work can be done with less expenditure of money, if the general efficiency of the work can be increased, if a deeper spiritual life can be developed in all the work, then by all means these desired changes should be brought about. This special committee for the studying of mission problems kept all these things in mind as they went about their task, and their findings in the form of recommendations were presented at the last annual meeting of the Board and adopted as part of the policy of the Mission Board. The Committee is continuing the study of the problems and no doubt will have further recommendations to make as opportunity affords.

Another special committee is carefully revising and rewriting the Constitution of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, and their report will be considered at the next annual meeting of the Board.

The Relief Committee of the General Board dealt with some concrete instances of need in several drought-stricken areas affecting our church. Money held in custody by the General Board for relief purposes were, upon the decision of the Relief Committee, released for the relief of distress in these areas and administered by responsible brethren in several centers of the distress areas. Other funds were made available for the relief of suffering in the flood areas of Western Pennsylvania.

The Mission Study Course Committee has been active in the preparation of books and pamphlets, the aim of which is (1) to acquaint our people with the fields of service available to us and the spiritual needs of the unsaved masses; (2) to help to equip our people as workers in the great harvest field of our Lord. During the year under review a considerable number of books has been in the course of preparation by many different writers. As these books become available for general use among our people they will greatly enrich the supply of available material for the study of mission problems.

The General Sewing Circle Committee has carried on its work with its usual efficiency. In addition to the usual routine business of publicity and keeping alive the mission spirit among the sisters throughout the church they have assisted in the relief of suffering among the unfortunate by supplying clothing in large quantities to India as well as to sufferers in the drought-stricken areas of our own country. They have continued support of missionaries on the fields both in Argentina and in India.

The Executive Committee dealt as usual with the heavy responsibilities relative to finances. I doubt if any considerable number of the brotherhood has any remote idea of the hugeness of this task. Annuities and endowments must be made productive so that the interest checks may be regularly sent to those concerned. During the depression years many mortgagees were unable to pay their mortgage interest to the Mission Board which held first mortgage on their homes. Through mutual agreement many of these homes passed into the ownership of the Board which now owns, in and about Elkhart, upward of forty homes. The monthly rent accruing from these homes is large, but they need constant attention and the attending to the details relative to keeping them satisfactory to the tenants is a heavy strain on the Treasurer of the Board who looks after these details. These houses are to be sold as soon as their sale is financially justified. Similar difficult problems have arisen relative to other properties of the Mission Board located in various states north, east, south, and west.

Church Building. Hannibal, Missouri, Dedicated December 13, 1936

The Board has also taken action in connection with the sending back to the mission fields those who had been enjoying furloughs, sending new missionaries to the fields and authorizing furloughs from both foreign fields.

One particular task to which the Board has given attention is connected with the rebuilding of the Old People's Home in Ohio. Funds for this project had been held by the Board for a considerable period of time, but the time had not seemed ripe to begin the work. However, it appeared evident that work on that project should now be started.

Plans and estimates have been carefully considered, and a decision was reached which fixes the cost at $20,000.00. Half of this amount is already available in the form of special funds. The rest is to be solicited from the brotherhood. Considerable soliciting has already been done, but the remaining ten thousand dollars is not all received. This is a most worthy cause and it is to be earnestly hoped that by springtime the money will have been received and that work can be started and the home completed to take care of our aged brethren and sisters who will wish to make application to enter the new home. I believe that the one chief reason that I have been kept in happy, useful service is that I have been a lover of the Holy Scriptures. It has been my habit to read the Bible through four times a year; in a prayerful spirit, to apply it to my heart, and practice what I find there. I have been for sixty-nine years a happy man; and I desire for my beloved brothers and sisters that they may be happy, happy, happy. It is impossible to tell what God may give us in this way if we are thus lovers of the Holy Scriptures.—George Muller.

Men are born with two eyes, but with one tongue, that they may see twice as much as they say.—Cotton.

MEXICAN BORDER

By T. K. Hershey

Those interested in the development of the work among the Mexicans along the Mexican border will find much data on the history of this movement by reading the reports of the committee that was sent out to investigate, and also the series of articles written for the Christian Monitor.

In September, 1936, my wife and I left Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, for Texas to begin this work. We are living in a house trailer, and travel about in the country making such investigations as will aid the future workers who may be sent to continue this work.

Our Findings

We have been very favorably impressed with most of the missions visited. It is encouraging to find Mexican congregations here and there in this large state. A Christmas service attended in a Mexican Church in Beeville, Texas, impressed us greatly. Many numbers were given relative to the occasion. The interest, attention, and order were very good. The Mexican pastor seems to be a spiritual man. The Sunday school and church services we attended in San Antonio, Beeville, and Victoria were well attended, and much interest in the Gospel was manifested.

Our Efforts Thus Far

The condition of subnormal health prevented us from accomplishing as much as we had desired. However, we have succeeded in starting a class at the Tuleta church where fifteen or more young people and older ones are studying the Spanish language. A vacated schoolhouse at Normanna has been secured where regular Spanish services are being held every Sunday. The school for Mexican children at Normanna has been closed and the children have been transferred to the centralized school building. The school board has turned over the building to us for religious services. We feel this was a direct answer to prayer.

I shall not be able always to be present for the Spanish class on Wednesday night or at the Spanish services on Sunday. In my absence, Sister Anna Hallman will teach the class and conduct the Sunday school in Spanish at Normanna. Thus, we feel that some definite work is already begun. We also had a meeting with the Mexicans in Pettus.

Helpers

Another thing accomplished is the coming of helpers. Bro. David C. Alwine and family have come from the Stahl Church at Johnstown, Pennsylvania. At present, he is running a filling station at Pettus, Texas, for his livelihood.

Sister Agnes Aschliman, a graduate nurse of Stryker, Ohio, has also arrived in Texas. At present, she is in San Antonio where she hopes to find work in nursing and to help in the Mexican work that we hope to open there later.

Bro. John D. Leatherman of Lansdale, Pennsylvania, arrived January 9. He expects to find work and help in the Mexican work as the Lord may lead.

These brethren and sisters begin the study of the Spanish language at once with the hope of being able to preach and teach in it in the near future. This is in line with the original plan for opening work here.

There are also others with whom we are in correspondence who are planning to come to Texas, secure work, and assist in the Mexican Border work. Among them are schoolteachers and clerks. The General Mission Board is studying this work among the Mexicans and is making investigation with respect to future workers, especially the superintendent. We are anxious that the superintendent be one of experience and that he be sent soon, so that when we are to leave to return for Argentina, the work will go forward without a jar.

Pastor Garcia Standing before the Methodist Mexican Church, Roswell, New Mexico

Other Denominations

While it is true there are many denominations working among the Mexicans, there is room for others without duplication or overlapping. There are many places in Texas where mission work should be done.

These lines are being written in Victoria, Texas. In this town, there is Presbyterian and Pentecostal Mexican work. The Baptists have a work in Mexican colonies six miles out from town. These work among the 1,500 Mexicans in this section. The Presbyterians and Baptists each have about sixty members. The Pentecostals have less. There is an opportunity in this town, as well as in others, to do real mission work.

We beg an interest in the prayers of the church in behalf of the Mexican Border work. We take this opportunity of thanking the many contributors for making this work possible, especially for the free distribution of Bibles, New Testaments, Gospels, and tracts. May the work begun, go on until many Mexicans in different parts of Texas are brought to the marvelous light of the Gospel as it is found in Christ Jesus our Lord.

ACTIVITIES OF EASTERN MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES IN 1936

By Henry F. Garber

Under the blessing of God our group has been enabled to continue to minister in established fields and to enter new ones. Growth and development seem rather slow when one is continually close to the work.

I was very much interested in looking back ten years to the Missionary Messenger issue of October, 1926. Then there were five stations listed in the Messenger. Ten years later there were twenty-six listed in the United States. Besides these there are three stations occupied in the African field. These changes help us to see that the brotherhood is becoming more and more conscious of the Christian's responsibility to carry the Gospel message. We rejoice in this.

The Board's activities have been many and varied. During the unprecedented floods last spring, which swept over the east and over a portion of our own district, the desire to relieve human need showed itself very quickly. In a short time almost $5,000.00 was raised by our constituency for this cause. It was another proof that when our brethren see real need there is a prompt and liberal response.

Last November collections were taken in our churches for the charitable work of the hospitals and sanitariums in our county. The response was gratifying.

Another gathering of new and second-hand clothing and bedding was made at Mellingers Church on December 2. Almost three tons of goods were packed into sixty-five bales, besides ten bags of shoes. These goods were shipped to our Russian Mennonite brethren in Canada who suffered again from drought during the past summer.

Turning from strictly charitable work we note that one new city mission was organized during the past year. It is located in Steelton, an industrial city near Harrisburg, Pa.

For thirty-seven years the Philadelphia Mission services were held in a part of the Mission residence. A movement was started to provide a church building for the group. During the past year a residence was bought next to the mission home. This will likely be torn down during 1937 and a suitable church building erected on the site during the year.

Looking to the African field in Tanganyika Territory, we find that four new missionaries arrived on the field during 1936. Bro. John Leatherman and wife sailed April 8 and are now in charge of the Bible training school for the native Christian teachers at Bukiroba. This school started with an enrollment of six native Christians. These young men are the first native Christians who are being taught to become the teachers in the native "bush schools." It is planned that the bush schools as well as the Bible training school will be practically self-supporting.

Bro. Clyde Shenk and wife sailed July 23 and will occupy Bumangi station in the Zanaki district, when that is opened. There are now twelve missionaries on the field who will occupy four stations. The first station was at Shirati. Here a thriving medical work is being carried on. At this station are Bro. John Mosemann and wife, Doctor Lillie Shenk, and Nurse Elma Hershberger. At Mugango, Bro. Elam Stauffer and wife are stationed. In the opening of a new field like this, much building must be done. Homes cannot be rented. They must be built. Bro. Clinton Ferster and wife were sent out to take care of this phase of the work. The fourth permanent home is about completed.

Sponsored by our Board during the year, a mission study course book on our African field was prepared and published. Its title is "Africa Calls," and Ada Zimmerman and Catherine Leatherman are the writers.

The ever-increasing activities of the Board call for the consecration of increasing numbers of our young people for this work. We rejoice that when the call comes, hands can be laid on them, and they can be sent forth.

Increasing activity also calls for an increasing consecration of means. The response to this call has been generous during the past year. Receipts were about 35 per cent higher than during the previous year.

With all humility of mind, we want to acknowledge that all these activities and forward steps were possible only because of the favor of a good heavenly Father. We thank God for it all and take courage to move forward.

ACTIVITIES OF THE AFRICA MENNONITE MISSION IN 1936

By Elam W. Stauffer

In the beginning of 1936 we began to open the work at Bukiroba Station. We did not yet have a dwelling house to live in. Although preaching services were held from the start Sunday school was not begun until Jan. 26, 1936.

On Feb. 2, 1936, regular weekly services in the afternoon were held at Musoma. Our first invitation to the people was given at Bukiroba on Feb. 16, at which time fourteen desired to be taught further in the Christian faith. On Jan. 20 we were again reminded of God's help when we received the third Right of Occupancy which is for Mugango Station.

Christians and Believers at Shirati

Our first baptismal services for this year were held at Shirati on May 3, at which time eleven were received by baptism, and eight were received from another faith, making a total membership of forty-seven at this time.

On May 27 John and Catherine Leatherman arrived at Shirati.

Due to heavy rains during this season, our building work was delayed a bit, but by the latter half of June the Ferster home at Bukiroba was ready for part occupancy. At this time the entire group visited Bukiroba in another one of our ever-necessary conferences concerning the work.

During the latter part of July we had several weeks of translation work in Kijita but knowing nothing about this language it would be more nearly proper to say that Mr. Sywulka of the A. I. M. did the translation work here at our mission and I had the advantage of seeing him do it. From July 31 to Aug. 5 Mr. Sywulka and the writer spent in Majita in the interests of taking over that field for our shepherding. We visited eight schools and everyone of them accepted our control of them. We took the names of forty-one baptized Christians and a goodly number of believers. The field is a large one, having over 20,000 people, and the seed sown there by the A. I. M. is thriving and gives us a great work to take over. On Aug. 14 the application for the fourth Right of Occupancy was handed in to the district office for 10 acres in the Uzanaki Chiefship. Bro. and Sister Clyde Shenk arrived on the field at Shirati on Sept. 22 and at once took up language study. With them also came the first new car bought in the U. S. A. and shipped to the field.

On Oct. 1 the writer and his wife moved out to station three, Mugango, to open work there and get it under way before the rainy season would set in.

The Teachers' Training School at Bukiroba opened Oct. 14 when six students were enrolled. This is the beginning of an attempt to get native men trained to give the Gospel to their own folks as soon as possible.

DO WE BEAR THE IMPRINT?

"The possession of the Spirit commits us irrevocably to separation from sin. For what is holiness but an emanation of the Spirit of holiness who dwells in us? A sanctified life is therefore the print, or impression of His seal: 'He can never own us without His mark, the stamp of holiness. The devil's stamp is none of God's badge.'"—A. J. Gordon.

THE SEWING CIRCLES

By Lina Z. Ressler

The work of the Sewing Circles has become a recognized part of the work of the Mennonite Church. As now organized this work is a regular part of the church's activities.

More than fifty years ago, when a need for organized charitable effort was recognized in some of our districts, the women were requested to do sewing and thus aid the work of the deacon in relieving distress and poverty. In some places this co-operation was recognized by church authorities. After this kind of help had been going on for some years and the work was recognized as being blessed of the Lord it was felt that if the work were done more systematically greater good might be accomplished.

In the early nineties groups of women met and sewed. At first only a few of these groups met in the larger centers but need became more apparent, and the idea became more and more prevalent that the Sisters' Sewing Circle work was blessed of God and filled a recognized need.

An idea so practical could not help but appeal to those interested. The need for more organization along these lines became more and more apparent. Active groups sprang up in various places and soon every actively organized church sponsored its sisters' Sewing Circle.

The year 1927 brought changes in the active organization of the sewing circles. For some twenty years before the work had been sponsored as a missionary society. Now there was a wide-felt need that the women's missionary efforts should co-ordinate with the other missionary agencies of the church. After much prayer and careful thought a special committee was appointed by General Conference at Belleville, Pa. This committee was to help to bring about a closer relationship between the various active missionary organizations of the church.

At the General Conference held near Goshen, Ind., August, 1929, a committee of women active in the missionary interests of the church was appointed to work with the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities to develop the women's missionary interests of the church. This committee has been working along with the Mission Board to systematize and co-ordinate the work of the missionary interests all over the church. Much has been accomplished. There remains still more to be desired in the way of unified effort. There are at present, 1937, nearly three hundred regularly organized circles working in nearly all of our organized churches in the United States and Canada. There is a membership of over four thousand. Missionary needs are studied, a season of devotion is held at each meeting, and missionary information is kept before the working groups.

Constitutions are so arranged that each circle works in harmony with the church where it is organized. The officers of the circle report to a district organization corresponding to the district conference. The officers of this district organization in turn are responsible to the General Sewing Circle Committee. This committee aims to aid and advise in plans and work for the various sections. There are provisions for three groups of workers.

The adult group is for all workers who constitute the regular sewing circle. This group in turn sponsors and advises the younger organizations where so desired.

An intermediate circle organized for the younger sisters, ranging in age from thirteen to womanhood, meet in groups and work along similar lines.

A third group, for girls of twelve years and under, is sponsored and helped by the older groups. These girls do work for which they are adapted, and incidentally they are trained for future activity.

Altogether we feel that the Sewing Circle activities of our church provide opportunity for service and helpfulness. There is yet much work to be done. More and more attention is being given to the devotional hour held during some part of our meeting. Here God's Word is read, missionary needs are studied, and problems are talked and prayed over. Information concerning needs among the sick, shut-ins, hospitals, and missions are thus kept before the group. Books and reading are discussed and activities urged.

During the past year much has been done for the drought sufferers by the circles who have been favored with the blessings of garden and field. Some districts have gathered a good many clothes and shipped them to the needy ones. Others have sent means and provisions. Along with these ways of helping come always the prayer, the kindly touch of holy sympathy, and the helpfulness of Christian service.

Altogether the past year has been fraught with blessings from a loving Father and we enter the New Year hopefully, and with joy in His glad service.

When Mary met the risen Lord at the empty tomb, her glad heart responded to His request that she carry the news of His resurrection to the sad and waiting disciples. Perhaps there were many things she did not understand. Perhaps the message itself involved some questions but Mary went, and to her has been ascribed the honor of being the first to carry the message of the resurrection. Long before that time, and ever since, God has given to women a distinct part in the carrying on of His work. In the work of our Sewing Circles our chief aim is to make Christ known. There are many ways in which this may be done. For our Sewing Circles the making and distributing of garments for the poor seem a very fitting way of carrying on this work.

Then, too, there are home needs, hospital needs, needs of institutions, and gifts of sympathy and material help in every home community. All these things are distinctly in line with the talents and opportunities of our sisters.

May we ever keep in line with God's Word and willingly, joyfully, and earnestly continue to "go quickly" to carry the Good News to others.

THE MENNONITE BOARD OF EDUCATION

By S. F. Coffman

The year 1936 has been one of some progress in the educational field of the church. The three educational institutions of the church have felt an increased interest in the work of education, and each school has noted an increase in the attendance of students.

One of the chief matters of interest in the work of the schools is that of an increased interest in the Bible departments of the institutions. The primary purpose of our schools has been that of guarding the spiritual life of our young people while acquiring knowledge in the branches of higher education. For this purpose the church insisted on a strong course in Bible in each school when it was organized. Since that time the church in general has found increasing interest among her young people in acquiring a better knowledge of the Word of God. This fact is evidenced by the increasing number of short-term Bible schools established and conducted in many of the congregations in various conference districts. Our educational institutions have taken steps to strengthen the Bible departments which afford a continued opportunity of study in the Word as young people seek their preparation for fields of service requiring more training along educational lines.

During the past few years when difficulty was experienced in maintaining institutional work on account of strained finances, our schools have maintained a balanced account, due largely to the personal adjustments made by those connected with the institutions, and to the continued support of the brotherhood through the times of stress. The policy of the Board has been to incur no further indebtedness. This policy has been maintained thus far.

On account of the increased ability of the brotherhood to share in the maintenance of the church's institutions, steps were taken at the last annual business meeting to reduce the indebtednesses of the schools under the Board. Each school having a proportion of the indebtedness assumed by the Board, has been apportioned its share and is seeking to liquidate the burden as speedily as possible, without undue pressure or appeal. There has been a response to the efforts of those concerned in this work, and an increased interest in the schools has been noted throughout the brotherhood.

In harmony with the general trend of organizations of the church to promote the efficiency of our organizations and boards by a more permanent form of organization, the Board of Education revised its constitution and thus provided for a longer term of membership for its trustees with terms expiring in successive years over a period of four years. This arrangement prevents the change of the entire membership in any one year, and provides the Board with members who have had some experience in the administration of the work of the Board. The conferences concerned have adopted the plan and have adjusted their representation accordingly.

The increase in registration reported by the schools is a matter of appreciation, and the interest in the religious work of the schools on the part of the student body is to be commended. May God give grace to those who are directing the affairs of each school and to the faculties of the various institutions to fulfill their duties in the love and faith of Jesus Christ, with a mind and heart to promote the testimony of Christ and His Church through the lives of the young people who seek to serve Him better under the help and guidance of our educational institutions.

THE WORK OF THE PUBLICATION BOARD DURING THE PAST YEAR

By O. N. Johns, Secretary of Mennonite Publication Board

During the year 1936 the Mennonite Publication Board has enjoyed the rich blessings of God upon its work. We have enjoyed a prosperous year financially, and above that we have enjoyed the privilege of disseminating the Word of God through the press by an enlarged subscription list (in general) of our various periodicals and large orders of Sunday-school supplies and other publications.

We wish to thank the public for their co-operation in making this possible and solicit your continued support in the spreading of the Good News (the Gospel), by sending in literature for publication—whether original or selected, by subscribing for the various periodicals, by keeping your subscriptions paid up to date, and by giving us any suggestions that you may have to offer to increase our efficiency, as a Board, in serving the Lord and also the church.

It might be well to bring again to your attention some of the policies adopted as a standard of action for our Publishing House. They are as follows:

1. To publish such literature only as is Scripturally sound, in harmony with the doctrines and ideals of the Mennonite Church, edifying as reading matter, unifying in its influence, adapted to the present-day needs of home and church. All job work is to be in harmony with, at least not contrary to, this standard.

2. To publish a full line of periodicals, together with books and tracts, suitable in supplying the needs of the church, the home, and the Sunday school.

3. To furnish this literature at the lowest price consistent with the policy of keeping the Institution upon a self-sustaining basis.

4. To distribute free literature, also literature published at a financial sacrifice, whenever and wherever the best interests of the cause demand it, or there are funds on hand available for this purpose, or the financial status of the House warrants it.

5. To co-operate with other organizations or agencies in the church in an effort to promote unity in the faith and in the support of Gospel standards, to extend the borders of the church, and to strengthen and advance the interests of every member, home, congregation, and institution in the church.

Besides the publication work, we have a Book Department in the House where you can secure new religious books, and a bookstore located in Lancaster, Pa., in charge of J. W. Weaver, where you can purchase new books and also second-hand books, often at a very low price. This gives you a splendid opportunity to obtain safe reading material.

Among the sad experiences of the Board during the past year was the passing away of our beloved Bro. J. A. Ressler who has so faithfully and efficiently labored within the House for many years. His departure leaves a large and difficult vacancy to fill. We humbly submit to the will of God and praise God for the brother's faithful labors. The Executive Committee of the Board has taken steps to fill this vacancy.

The House management was granted the privilege to instal fire fighting equipment and to improve their heating system by installing new stokers, if desirable and practicable.

A new telephone system has been installed within the House which facilitates the work by making it possible for the management of the House and the different departments to contact each other more readily.

Steps are also being taken by the Management of the House to calculate more definitely the exact cost of printing and operating, thus enabling them to serve the public in a more efficient way. While the work of the House is done somewhat on a missionary basis, we try to follow the injunction, "Be not slothful in business."

May we continue to pray and labor together for the glory of God in our publication work.

MENNONITE BOOK PUBLICATIONS

By C. B. Shoemaker

Progress has been comparatively slow in the publishing of new books by Mennonite authors, but by adding a few each year, we now have approximately one hundred twenty-five titles in books and pamphlets with a large number of titles in tracts. During the past year a few more titles have been added to our list of Mennonite publications.

The widest sale and distribution was with the new book, "Menno Simons' Life and Writings," in two parts: A Biography, by H. S. Bender, and Selected Writings, by John Horsch. 1936 was the anniversary year of Menno Simons' conversion, so this book was published as a quadricentennial tribute to this early leader of our church. A sample copy was mailed to each congregation, soliciting congregational orders and urging that the book especially be brought to the attention of our young people. 5000 copies were printed, and over 4000 of these have been sold in six months.

The Teacher's Training Course series of manuals is meeting with favor and added use. The Sunday School Teacher's Training Program, which is being sponsored by the Mennonite General Sunday School Committee, is a response to a greatly increased interest in this work throughout the Church. The Elementary Teachers' Course is intended primarily for those who wish to pursue a course in their own homes or in their own congregations. It aims to give a brief but general view of the subject matter and the method of Christian education. The curriculum is divided into six units, each unit consisting of twelve lessons. Textbooks for the first three units are now available, Units I and III having been published during the past year. The three units now published are:

Unit I—Old Testament Law and History.
Unit II—Old Testament Poetry and Prophecy.
Unit III—New Testament Studies.

"Helpful Stories No. 4," gathered by Lina Z. Ressler, a booklet of 32 pages was added to the progressive series for the boys and girls. No. 1 and No. 2 are now sold out and out of print, No. 3 and No. 4 have just recently been published.

A pamphlet was issued outlining a Summer Bible School Course for the High School age, and a booklet "Bible Doctrine I" by John E. Coffman was published for use in the first year of the High School Age Course. "Bible Doctrine II" by the same author will be published soon for use in second year course during summer of 1937. The Summer Bible School Manuals and material are having an added sale each year since their publication, going out beyond our own constituency and eliciting favorable comment as to their value as an all-Bible course.

A 48-page booklet, "Handbook for Young People's Meeting Workers" was also published during the year. It was written by a committee appointed for that purpose. We believe it will fill a need in giving ideas for better organization, more unification, and greater efficiency in the work of this arm of the Church.

During recent years there was a growing realization of our need for more and better helps for teachers of children in our Sunday schools, also the need of closer graded and better adapted helps for the children's division. In view of these needs, the series of quarterlies was revised, beginning with the first quarter 1937, with the following changes and additions:

1. Picture Cards and Rolls changed to Providence Lithograph Series.

2. Primary Quarterly—colored cover and expressional feature with each lesson.

3. Primary Teachers' Quarterly—a new book for Primary teachers with suggestions to teachers of Beginners.

4. Junior Quarterly—a new book for Juniors 9 to 12 years.

5. Intermediate Quarterly — adapted to ages from about 13 to 17 years.

6. Junior-Intermediate Teachers Quarterly—adapted to Junior and Intermediate ages.

These additions and changes should add very materially to an adapted presentation of the uniform lessons in our Sunday schools.

There continues to be a constant flow of Gospel tracts going out as requests come from various sources. During this past year 10,000 copies of tracts, totaling 48 pages, were printed to keep up the stock. A number of reprints were made, and new titles added were:

1. The Background and Heritage of the Mennonite Church.

2. Mennonites on Military Service.

3. Twelve Great Facts.

The Mission Study Course Committee appointed by the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities has outlined a course of study which includes books on India, South America, Africa, Rural Missions, Biblical Basis of Missions, Personal Evangelism, and Missionary Biographies.

The first title of this new series came from the press in December, entitled "Africa Calls," by Ada M. Zimmerman and Catherine Leatherman. It presents a brief survey of Africa; her peoples, her religions, and a bit of her past as well as present status of life. While it is primarily a mission study book for Juniors, yet it may be read with interest by both old and young, for it presents an interesting picture of Africa as a mission field. Numerous illustrations add to the attractiveness of the book.

Another mission study book that has just been published, January, 1937, is "Studies in Mennonite City Missions," by Alta Mae Erb. This gives both the history of the Mennonite City Mission movement and a comprehensive idea of the present scope of work. The book is adapted to study work by numerous suggestions for projects and research by members of classes, but also makes interesting reading for individuals. It is well illustrated.

Forthcoming Editions

A new song book, "Life Songs No. 2," for Sunday School and Young People's Meetings is being planned for publication this year. The Music Committee appointed by General Conference has had two meetings and has made selections of songs. The next move is to contact copyright owners to learn whether the songs selected are available within a reasonable price. It is hoped that the new book will be ready for presentation at General Conference in August.

A Mennonite Dictionary or Cyclopedia is in preparation by Daniel Kauffman, who plans to have the book finished by midyear. It will contain about 600 double column pages with a write-up on about 2500 subjects. Included in these subjects are about 500 doctrinal points, 500 biographical sketches of church leaders, 200 historical sketches of Mennonite families, as well as of conferences, church institutions, and other matters of interest.

It is planned that work shall be started this year for the reprinting of the large book, "Martyr's Mirror." This will be an undertaking of no small proportions, and it may require a year or more to complete the task, as well as a large investment of money.

And so the work goes on. The purpose of the Publishing House is only fulfilled as it continues to publish and disseminate books and literature that will supply the present-day need. May we labor to the end that the church may be strengthened, the Gospel may be spread, and the name of the Lord may be magnified.

"Faith in the living God is the connecting link that binds man to the Infinite."

OUR YOUNG PEOPLE'S MEETING WORK DURING THE PAST YEAR

By J. Irvin Lehman

Our young people's meeting work has affected the church in nearly every district. The following are a few thoughts that came to me as I meditated on the above subject.

Its Growth

Its growth has been much like that of an acorn into an oak, that is, it has been slow and has weathered some storms and has had less husbandry and care than some of our other church activities have received. However, it has grown. Its growth has been a slow, healthy development. In fact it is just sixty years since the first official action was taken in 1877 by the Ontario Mennonite Conference approving such gatherings. In thinking back over this period it seems that the growth of the work was most generally brought about by the minister or some other spiritual leader in the local congregation, who saw the need and benefits of the Young People's Meeting and either permitted or promoted its inception. Sometimes this direction was wise, and doubtless sometimes otherwise, as we find true in all human endeavor. Its growth still continues.

The statistics compiled by Bro. Royer appearing in the Year Book for 1936 show an increase of fifteen over those given for the previous year, and it is quite evident that not all are reported. The total number reported is 216. This in comparison with the total number of Sunday schools which is 505 seems to indicate that there is yet much room for expansion. Would it not be profitable to have a Young People's Meeting weekly, bimonthly, or monthly in every place where there is a Sunday school? We also noticed that there is growth reported in the conference districts that have had this activity the longest, indicating that the work has filled a definite place and has kept enough abreast of the times that it has not lost its usefulness or place in our church work.

Its Present Status

The Young People's Meeting holds a unique place among our church activities in offering constantly, year in and year out, opportunities for the largest group of our young people in each congregation for all-around spiritual development. This is an important place. We may have a summer Bible school for two or three weeks, but then it is over for a year. Our teacher training classes reach some of our young people for awhile, or a mission study class may be held. But the young people's meeting is constant. From a church wide standpoint the one responsible for this work is the Young People's Meeting editor who selects some of the texts, arranges the outline studies, suggestive assignments, etc., which appear in the Topics Booklet and the church periodicals.

Every two years General Conference elects the Topics Committee which is composed of five members who select and arrange the topics for each year and have a general interest in the work. This committee has also been responsible through a subcommittee for the new booklet, "Handbook for Young People's Bible Meeting Workers," which we hope will be quite helpful in giving suggestions and plans that will result in more workable and efficient local organizations.

The actual work locally is mostly carried on under the supervision of the ministry and a superintendent or committee and depends much on the personal initiative of the many loyal and zealous young people of our congregations. As the work is carried on at the present time the committees and those on the programs are not near to a teacher who plans their work, instructs them or supplies them with a stimulus, but they are thrown on their own initiative and resources in preparing their work in their own homes and giving it in their own congregations. This is a strong feature of the work and results in individuality and rugged Christian character and developed talents that can be obtained in no other way. This also gives the work an adaptability so that it can be suited to the needs of the individual congregation or conference.

The Outlook

In thinking of the future we expect more Young People's Meetings to be organized, for there are yet a number of congregations that have not taken advantage of its benefits. We feel such congregations are suffering a distinct and needless loss. Any who are planning to organize will find the Young People's Meeting Handbook, which may be obtained from the Mennonite Publishing House, quite helpful. On the part of the Topics Committee some attention is being paid to the series of topics that appear through a number of years, especially along the line of doctrinal subjects. If it is felt advisable a cycle of topics should be prepared. We expect our young people who have the opportunity of serving in any way to be faithful and diligent in their task, trusting the Lord to bless the work as it continues year by year.

REPORT OF SUMMER BIBLE SCHOOLS OF 1936

Report of Schools Which Responded

The report on our Summer Bible Schools, for a number of reasons, is incomplete, but it seems wise to give a summary at this time. To date 94 schools have reported. These had a total enrollment of 13,472, and an average attendance of 11,135. There were employed 964 teachers. Of the total number enrolled, 370 are reported as taking high-school work. Expenses are estimated as $3,326.44, a cost per enrolled pupil of 25 cents.

The Number of Schools

The Publishing House bookstore has a Summer Bible School roster of 155 individual orders. A number of these orders were from persons outside of our own denomination. Making a reasonable allowance for such orders, we may quite accurately conjecture that the number of Summer Bible Schools during the summer of 1936 were not less than 125 and not more than 140. To date, 200 sets of the elementary Summer Bible School courses, have been distributed.

Some District Returns

Interesting district reports come from the following:

Lancaster County and the east, 25 schools reported; Southwestern Pennsylvania, 20 schools reported; Missouri-Kansas, 12 schools reported; Indiana-Michigan, 11 reported; Illinois, 9 reported; Ohio, 6 reported.

Comparative Facts

In 1935 the final report was 103 schools with a total enrollment of 11,500. In 1936, of the reports from 94 schools, the total enrollment is 13,472—almost 2,000 more pupils in less schools. This is remarkable. Likely the total enrollment of all schools actually held would go beyond 16,000. The number of Sunday-school pupils, under 14 years of age, in all of the Mennonite Sunday schools (about 400 or more) reported Jan. 1, 1935 was 14,266. Making an allowance for the 370 high-school pupils in the enrollment of the 94 Summer Bible Schools reported thus far, we have had in these schools only 1,000 less pupils under 14 years of age than in all the Mennonite Sunday schools. This gives an idea of the extent of the influence and the outreach of the Summer Bible School movement.

GOD PAYS IT BACK TO YOU

The love you give to others,
The good you daily do,
The friendly hand you offer
Will all come back to you.

The words of loving friendship,
The smile that all can view,
The little acts of kindness
Will all come back to you.

Then do your deeds of kindness;
Be bright as morning dew;
Extend your hand in friendship;
God pays it back to you!

THE PRINCIPLE OF NON-CONFORMITY

By John H. Gochnauer

The word nonconformity is not found in Scripture, but the thought is given in Rom. 12:2: "Be not conformed to this world"; and the ideal is completed in Rom. 8:29: "For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son." The principle found here is based on the foundation facts of God as the author of all good, who desires and demands the worship and homage of all men (Ex. 20:2, 6) and Satan, the author of all evil (in the sense of wickedness), who as a rival, craves and strives to win to himself the worship of men. II Thess. 2:3, 4; Luke 4:7; Isa. 14:12-14. Here we have worship and idolatry in sharp contrast.

In man's first experience as he came from the hands of his Maker, he knew only good and was warned that he will die if he tastes of the fruit of the tree of knowledge of good and evil. This man stood as the son of God by the power of his own free will, but when he yielded to the subtle influence of the tempter he fell from his exalted position and he and all his posterity became depraved and subject to death —spiritual, physical, and eternal.

But God in His wisdom and love presented a plan (Gen. 3:15) by which man could be restored to sonship, provided he met the conditions of God's plan. This, like at first, rests with man's will, his free choice. Will he believe and obey God and separate himself from the world and "touch not the unclean thing," and be a son (II Cor. 6:17); or will he not?

The Scripture abounds with the most striking examples of men's choices and their diverse consequences. Abel by faith offered (Heb. 11:4) in obedience to God's will, an acceptable sacrifice, and today he speaks from the eternal records of God's honor roll. Cain in defiance to God's will, and according to his own will, offered, but sin lay at his door (Gen. 4:7), and all his posterity perished in the Deluge.

Noah, too, as a heroic figure, alone in the face of a wicked world, was separated from the wicked world, first, by his choice; and then by the providence of God. Soon after the death of Noah mankind again sank into the darkness of idolatry and conformity to the world. Then God called Abram (Gen. 12:1). Abram believed God and stepped out on His promises and was called the friend of God.

We think of Israel in Egyptian bondage, how God separated them from the Egyptians in sparing the firstborn where the blood was applied to the door and finally by the cleft waters of the Red Sea. At Sinai God gave a law to guide men to live separate from the world. Deut. 4:1, 9.

The passage in Exodus 32 teaches us how prone men are to wander away from God and to conform to the god of this world. The crisis came in verse 36 when Moses stood in the gate of the camp and the call rang out, "Who is on the Lord's side?" Their foolish choice brought death to three thousand men. This was a breach of the admonition given in Exodus 34:14: "Thou shalt worship no other god: for the Lord whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God."

Again we have another striking example of world conformity and its disastrous results in Num. 25:1, 9. This touches the social life of Israel as well as their religious life. Deut. 7:3, 4. Israel was commanded not to marry with other nations, for they would surely turn them from the worship of the true God to serve other gods. By the subtle counsel of Balaam (Num. 31:16) they committed whoredom and fornication (I Cor. 10:8) and sacrilege, and those that died in the plague were twenty-four thousand. Num. 25:9.

The Sabbath also (Ex. 31:17) was given as a sign to distinguish Israel from all other nations. Num. 15:37-41. The blue ribbon in the fringe of their garments served the double purpose to remind Israel of their obligations to God and to be a testimony to the world that they were God's people.

We could multiply indefinitely and study with profit examples of conformity to the world and its disastrous results.

But when Christ came He taught both by example and precept and set forth a standard acceptable unto God. His doctrine of separation for His followers is unmistakable (John 15:19; 17:14), and His servants have gone forth with the same message and spirit. Rom. 12:2; II Cor. 6:17; Jas. 1:27; Jas. 4:4; I Pet. 2:9; I Jno. 2:15.

This principle of nonconformity lies deeper than precept or example. We must recognize there are two antagonistic powers or spirits at work: (1) The spirit which is according to the course of this world—the prince of the power of the air—the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience. Eph. 2:2. (2) "The spirit which is of God" (I Cor. 2:12) which makes us Christlike in character (II Cor. 3: 18) and transforms the life (Rom. 12: 2) and sets our affection on heavenly things (Col. 3:1, 2).

We need to recognize this principle of separation of God's people from the world as a basic principle. It applies to His people in all ages and is essential for the whole Christian Church today. It enters into every phase of our life. We indeed are "in the world, but not of it."

Being in the world we of necessity have many experiences in common with those of the world, but "old things are passed away and behold all things are become new"—a new heart, new love, new ideals, new zeal, new burdens and passions, new life. It is the Spirit of God that indwells, transforms, and controls, and restores the "image of him that created him" (Col. 3:10).

It becomes true of each one as Paul declares of himself, "I am crucified with Christ," and "Christ liveth in me" (Gal. 2:20). "Whatever ye do . . . do all to the glory of God" (I Cor. 10:31). This enters into every phase of our activities—our occupation and service for and among our fellow men, our work and labor, our buying and selling, our social life and home interests, our school life and mental activities, our relation to the civil powers and our duties as citizens.

We are primarily interested in the great principle of nonconformity to the world and will leave the application of the details to the reader. Even here we find again the wisdom of God in speaking to us in principles which never change, and can be applied equally well to all climates, races, and periods of time, rather than in terms of manners and customs which constantly change.

In Matt. 22:37, 40, is given our whole duty toward God and man. Luke 6:31. The Golden Rule gives a very practical working rule between men. "Resist not evil" (Matt. 5:39). Christ "when he was reviled, reviled not again" (I Pet. 2:23). Does any man desire wisdom? "Let him ask of God," the source of all wisdom. Jas. 1:5. "Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers" (Rom. 13:1). Render to Caesar his due. Matt. 22:21. Pray for their guidance. I Tim. 2:1, 2. The only exception to submission to them is given in Acts 5:29. In personal conduct we find counsel in I Thess. 5:22: "Abstain from all appearance of evil." In personal appearance and attire (I Tim. 2:9) we are to adorn ourselves in modest apparel and with "the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit" (I Pet. 3:3, 4).

Our whole life is to be yielded (Rom. 6:16) to Christ as our supreme Head and Master, and to the church and her leaders as His duly appointed and authorized agency. Heb. 13:17: "Obey them that have the rule over you."

Finally, we think of the great principle of nonconformity as it applies to us in its final issue. Now we choose for ourselves whether we will be conformed to this world and transformed into the image of the god of this world, whose wisdom is characterized as earthly, sensual, and devilish (Jas. 3: 15) and whose fruits are given us (Gal. 5:19-21) and the solemn issue revealed in Rev. 22:11: "He that is filthy, let him be filthy still", and the final fate in Rev. 21:8 in the "second death."

Or will we choose to be conformed to the image of His Son and not conformed to this world, and bear the fruit of the Spirit (Gal. 5:22)? If we choose to be conformed to the image of His Son, then we shall be changed from "our vile bodies" and we shall be fashioned like unto "his own glorious body" (Phil. 3:21). In due time we shall be like Him (I Jno. 3:2) and be with Him and behold His glory (Jno. 17:24) and be His children and heirs. Rom. 8:17. We shall dwell in the mansions prepared (Jno. 14:3) and "so shall we ever be with the Lord" (I Thess. 4:17). Oh, may God help us to be not conformed to this world.

WHEN THE BROOK DRIED

"And it came to pass . . . that the brook dried up . . . and the word of the Lord came to him, saying, Arise, get thee to Zarephath. . . . I have commanded a widow woman there to sustain thee" (I Kings 17:2-9).

God knew when the widow's cruse was low
And the meal was almost gone;
And He dried the brook where Elijah drank,
And He sent His servant on,
That the handful of meal should not be spent,
Or the little oil grow less,
And that, when the widow's son lay dead
The Prophet's prayer should bless.

Hath He dried the brook where thou long last dwelt?
Canst thou find no solace there?
Zarephath is ready if Cherith fail,
With oil and meal to share.
Oh, tarry not, should He bid thee go,
His messenger thou shalt be;
Thou shalt carry a blessing to those who wait,
And a blessing waiteth thee.

JACOB ANDREWS RESSLER

By Daniel Kauffman

Jacob A., son of Martin B. and Magdalena (Andrews) Ressler, was born near Ronks, Pa., July 28, 1867; died at his home in Scottdale, Pa., Oct. 3, 1936. Between these two dates was crowded a busy life—his labors well known to the church at large.

He was converted at the age of seventeen and united with the Mennonite Church at Strasburg, Pa. In his early manhood years he was a teacher in the public schools of Lancaster, and later of Westmoreland Co., Pa. But though a natural teacher, the public schools were not the scene of his life labors.

In 1895 he moved with his family to Scottdale, Pa., where later in the year he was ordained to the ministry by Bishop Isaac Eby, his former bishop in the Lancaster Conference district. For a few years he devoted the energies of his life to the upbuilding of the cause of Christ and the church in the Westmoreland County district. But three years later an event occurred which for a time caused a change in the current of his life. In the summer of 1898 the Lord called his bosom companion to the glory world. A few months later, at a missionary meeting in Elkhart, Ind., he was the unanimous choice of fifteen Mennonite bishops, which action was unanimously ratified by the large congregation present, to head a small group of missionaries to India to open up work in that needy field. But before his sailing for India, that he might the better take care of the needs arising in this distant field of labor, he was ordained to the office of bishop; the ordination taking place at the time of a Bible conference at Springs, Pa., by Bishops J. N. Durr, Aaron Loucks, and the writer. His co-workers in that field were Dr. W. B. Page and wife, now of Goshen, Ind. They set sail for India in January of the following year. The history of the American Mennonite Mission at Dhamtari, C. P., India, is familiar to most of our readers, so we shall not attempt to repeat it here. That the foundations of the work were well laid is evident from the fact that the American Mission at Dhamtari prospered from the beginning and is the largest among our foreign missions.

Bro. Ressler had not been in India very long until he realized the truth of what God said concerning Adam: "It is not good that the man should be alone." During a furlough in the home country, in 1903, he was married to Sister Lina Zook of Sterling, Ohio, formerly a missionary in the Chicago Home Mission, some time after which they sailed for India. But while both were wholehearted devotees of the Mission cause, their missionary labors in that distant field were limited because of the delicate and failing health of Sister Ressler. This compelled them to return, in 1908, to their native land. Ahead of them was another field of labor which at the time was the least of their calculations.

Soon after their return to America they settled in the former home community of Sister Ressler; namely, Wayne Co., Ohio. Here they devoted the energies of their lives for the upbuilding of the Cause, just as they had done in the several fields of labor where the Lord had called them.

But Wayne County was not the scene of their life labors. About that time the expanding work in the Mennonite Publishing House at Scottdale called for an expanding force of workers. Among these was an editor of our Sunday-school literature. After much prayer and meditation and consultation we decided to extend a call to Bro. Ressler. He accepted the call, moved to Scottdale in 1911, and for twenty-five years the energies of his life were devoted to the promotion of the cause of Christ and the Church through the printed page. As editor of the Advanced Lesson Quarterly, Beams of Light, Words of Cheer, Mission Supplement, at times of other publications, his name has become a household word. During these years he was also used, as he had opportunity and could be spared from his work here, in other lines of service, he being an all-around handy man in various lines of work, especially as instructor in Bible conferences and as a useful worker in church conferences.

There is an end to all things earthly. The edict, "Dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return," was true of him, as of all other mortals. For a number of years there were evidences of failing health. Early in the year 1936 he was stricken with a severe heart attack, and from this he never fully recovered. His sudden death was no surprise, either to the doctor or to his co-workers. Like the rest of us, he had his shortcomings; but these, like his virtues, were on the altar, subject to the overruling power of God. We cherish his memory, mourn his departure, but submit to the superior judgment of Him who doeth all things well. May our lives be devoted to the same Cause which he so faithfully served.

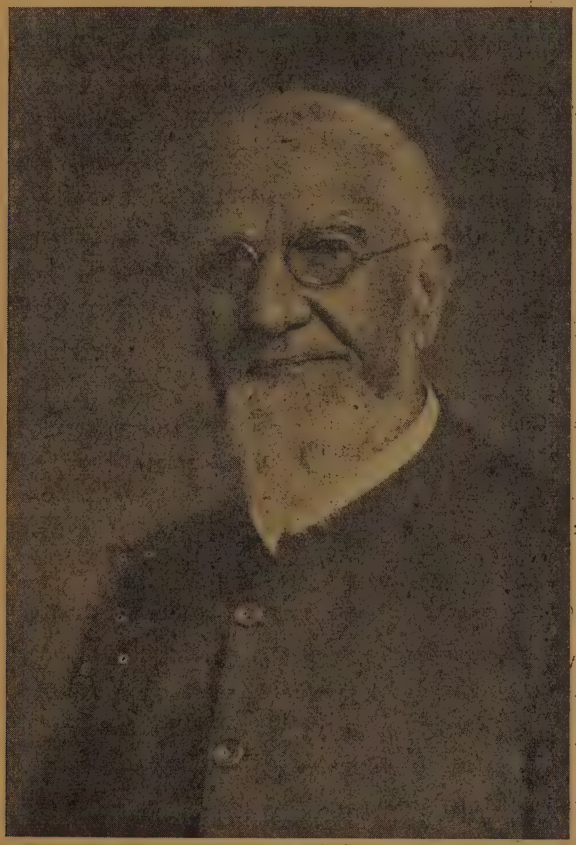
A LIFE SKETCH OF BISHOP JOSEPH S. SHOEMAKER

By A. C. Good

A son, Joseph S., was born to Benjamin and Veronica Shoemaker of Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 1, 1854. During his life he lived in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. His earth life came to a close at his home in Dakota, Ill., Feb. 6, 1935. This is indeed a brief sketch of the life of our departed brother, but much life and activity are crowded into the eighty-two years of his career. We measure life today, not so much by years as by deeds. We feel that our brother had allotted to him a goodly number of years in which to prove his stewardship of life, and to fill those years with deeds in the service of Christ and the church.

To him life was ever a challenge, an inborn desire to achieve and ever to appropriate to himself the advantages that his day afforded him. He believed in the Old Testament proverb, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might."

As a boy in school he was alert, and ever ready to improve the talents which the Lord had given him. Although deprived of a high-school and college education, as we understand those terms today, he ranked with the educated. Life to him was a great field of opportunity. He could say with the Psalmist, "He brought me forth into a large place."



Bishop Joseph S. Shoemaker

Now let us note a few outstanding points in his life. First and most important of them all, as a young man, he confessed Christ as his personal Savior. Soon afterward he united with the Mennonite Church, the church of his choice. He was a farmer by occupation and was held in high esteem by his neighbors. No day was begun without morning devotion. He also engaged in various other enterprises, and in all his business relationships he had "a good report of them which are without."

From the angle of his Christian life, he found many avenues of usefulness. He was superintendent and teacher in the Sunday school; chorister and music teacher in the church. He was called to the ministry in 1892, and ordained as bishop in 1902.

He served the church in various capacities. He was moderator of conference, both state and general; secretary of the General Mission Board; president of the Publication Board; member of the Board of Education; member of the Missions Committee; editor of the Advanced Sunday School Lesson Quarterly; chairman of the compiling committee for the Church and Sunday-school Hymnal.

It was while serving in this capacity, that I first learned to know Brother Shoemaker. He spent several weeks in Virginia, and was in our home a number of times. We soon learned that it was easy to get acquainted with this western preacher. We enjoyed his company so much so that, after getting the consent of my father, I accompanied him west as far as Chicago. Since he had bishop oversight of the Sterling congregation, it was my privilege to meet him frequently. I used to tell him that he was my western father.

In 1906 the Sterling congregation called me to be their minister and on February 25 Bro. Shoemaker ordained me a minister of the Word. In the thirty years of working together with him, I have always appreciated him and held him in the highest esteem. Our fellowship in the ministry was most congenial. In a series of meetings in his congregation the youngest one of his children confessed Christ as her Savior. That night at the close of the meeting, he said with tears of rejoicing, "Now the children are all in." He had a passion for souls, and that passion could be felt as he preached the Word. The Sterling congregation has been greatly enriched by his ministry. He came to us in our joys, and ministered to us in our sorrows. Such as he, the church has too few. Besides the demands of boards and committees he found time to engage in evangelistic and Bible conference work. In almost every state in the union our brother gave valuable service in this field.

We can well say that he was among the pioneer evangelists in the church, following closely in the work of Bros. J. F. Funk, J. S. Coffman, M. S. Steiner, Noah Metzler, and others. He was a good writer and contributed many articles to the church papers. In many of the homes where he visited during his evangelistic and Bible conference work they would ask him to write the names of the children in the family Bible, or to draw some picture for the children to keep.

The outstanding work that came from his pen is the book entitled, "The Ideal Christian Home." Who was better fitted to write such a book than he, for he believed that the Christian home is the foundation of the church and the nation?

It was never a question as to where he stood on the fundamental doctrines of the Word. To contend earnestly for the faith once delivered was a clear note in all of his preaching. He believed in progress, but that progress must be in line with the Word of God, and must serve the best interests of the church. I believe his greatest interest in life was the spiritual welfare of the church. His heart was deeply grieved as he noted the gradual drift towards worldliness. He most earnestly prayed that the church might give a clear testimony to the separated life, and that she might be kept in the center of His will.

Here, indeed, was a great and useful life, but we believe if he could speak today, he would say with Paul, "Not I, but Christ."

The last general meeting that he attended was the meeting of the General Mission Board that was held at Hopedale, Ill., June, 1935. After he returned home he realized that his sun was slowly sinking in the western horizon, and as the shadows began to lengthen he could sight, Home Sweet Home. Is it not fitting that here we should quote from the words of Paul: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith!"

On July 14, 1935, he preached his last sermon to his home congregation from the text found in Rev. 22:14: "Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city." A fitting text for a weary pilgrim as he was coming to the end of the road.

THE SPIRIT OF EVANGELISM

By J. C. Clemens

By the term evangelism, we understand the zeal of spreading the Gospel. The spirit of evangelism is none other than the spirit of God. "God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son" (Heb. 1: 1, 2).

1. Zeal of the Early Church

The Great Commission of Christ to His disciples was to spread the Gospel in all the world, beginning at Jerusalem. If we measure the thoroughness of the work of the early Church by what Paul accomplished in his field of labor, not one soul was neglected. Notice what he writes to the Colossians: "If we continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature under heaven; whereof I Paul am made a minister" (Col. 1: 23).

It took wonderful zeal to attain to that end, not having the conveniences the Church now enjoys, and we wonder how every soul could be reached. Some of the methods of procedure are recorded, namely, "in season and out of season," "with all humility of mind," "with many tears," "with temptations," "at all seasons," "publickly," and "from house to house," etc., etc. In fact this obligation rests on the Church, the only human agency on earth to carry out this all important work. Undoubtedly every individual member carried his respective quota of responsibility so that the leaders could do their work with great joy and satisfaction.

Evangelism was the major work of the early Church. The result was that the Lord added daily to the church such as should be saved.

2. Zeal of the Church in the Time of the Reformation

Menno Simons in answer to Gellius Faber writes concerning zeal: "We preach, therefore, as much as is in our power both day and night in houses and in the open air, in forests and in wildernesses, in water and in fire, in prisons and in dungeons, on the scaffold and on the wheel, before lords and princes, orally and by writings at the risk of possessions and blood, life and death; as we have done these many years; and are 'not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ' (Rom. 1:16), for we are a living fruit, and strongly feel the moving power in our hearts, as may be seen in many instances by the commendable submissiveness and willing sacrifices of our faithful Brethren and joint heirs in Christ Jesus.

"We would save all mankind from the jaws of hell; deliver them from the chains of their sins and by the grace and help of God win them to Christ by the Gospel of His peace; for this is the true nature of the love which is of God."

Such an ardor for the work of the Lord and for the ingathering of souls through the preaching of the Gospel cannot be otherwise than effective. We do well in pausing and reflecting on such a spirit of evangelism as predominated in the varied periods in the history of the early church.

3. Can a Church Live, not having this Spirit?

The spirit of evangelism is the life of the Church. Love is first on the list in the ninefold fruit of the Spirit and where love for souls is wanting the fire dwindles and threatens to die.

When faith finally sinks to a dangerously low ebb the Church will be caught up. It can no longer stay. "When the Son of man shall come will he find faith?". The Lord is still tarrying, not willing that so many should perish. If the 600,000,000 professing Christians in the world today would possess the true spirit of evangelism, the 1,000,000,000 remaining souls would be reached and the ends of the world saved.

4. The Spirit of Christ is Still Manifest

The Lord still has His seven thousand that are burning with love for souls. They are His peculiar treasure, Holy-Spirit-directed souls that know Jesus only. They are His true representatives, compassionate, loving, suffering, if need be, destitute and afflicted, willing to forsake home and country, serving the present age, the only time allotted to them, "looking for the blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Savior Jesus Christ."

Here and there we find bands of young people busily engaged in rural Sunday-school work, using their automobiles to gather in the neglected children from wasted fields. During the week they get into their homes and bring the Gospel to the parents through the medium of cottage meetings. The community is stirred and souls turn to the Lord. Is there a sweeter spirit than that which gives you a passion for souls? This heavenly joy overwhelms all other experiences here below, and can only be surpassed by the fulness of joy in Heaven. Would that this spirit might spread like a wave over the Church, so that "the mountains would break forth into singing and the trees of the field clap their hands."

SHINING FOR CHRIST A DIVINE REQUIREMENT

By the late J. S. Shoemaker

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.—Matt. 5:16.

The great fundamental principles of true Christianity are portrayed to us very definitely in the Sermon on the Mount, as recorded in Matthew, chapters 5 to 7. At least thirty-three positive, and eighteen negative commandments, are given by our loving Lord and Master in that memorable sermon. The first in the divinely arranged list is the one chosen as the foundation of this message.

The statement made by our Lord as recorded in verse fourteen, when He said, "Ye are the light of the world," was indeed a very high and encouraging compliment, which applied not only to the disciples who were present on that memorable occasion, but to all faithful believers, in all ages.

Jesus also said, as recorded in Jno. 8:12: "I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life;" that is, shall have the illumination of the Christ-life within the heart and soul. To all such He saith, "While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light" (Jno. 12:36). He further said, "I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness" (Vs. 46). Being saved by grace through faith, the true believer has been delivered from the bondage and darkness of sin, and Jesus the true Light is enthroned in the heart and life, and thus he or she becomes a real light to the world, being enabled by His sustaining grace to ever shine for Him.

When the Lord Jesus gave the command, "Let your light so shine before men," He did not mean your selfish light, which may be caused to burn by the oil of carnality and self-esteem being applied to your physical and mental makeup. Such shining is very noticeable in this day and age of the world. The apostle Paul has revealed to us in II Cor. 11:14 that "Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light." Hence many who pose as Christians and even ministers of the Gospel have been deluded by Satanic influences and are seeking to shine along carnal lines, instead of being fully consecrated to the Lord, and having worldly-minded, and following the dictates of the goddess of fashion in the matter of hair dressing, instead of the Scriptural requirements as given by Paul and Peter.

The aforesaid methods of shining are instigated by Satan and his agencies. The same are just the opposite of what our loving Lord and Master had in mind when He said, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

Where to Shine

1. As Christians we are called to shine for Him in the home. It is a divine requirement that parents bring up their children "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." It is not only necessary for parents to give their children Scriptural training and teaching, but they need to constantly shine for Christ in the home, and thus exemplify the true principles of the Christian religion. Thus the children will be led to Christ and follow in His steps by following not only the teaching but also the example of their parents.

The Enlarged Children's Home in Kansas City

2. Christians are also commissioned to let their light shine in the community in which they live, being an example to their neighbors, friends, and others in manifesting the spirit of courtesy, kindness, hospitality, helpfulness

Him to shine through them in every phase of life.

Many professed Christians, even members of our own denomination are seeking to shine carnally in their social life; others, in politics or as heads and leaders of secular organizations; others, in commercial interests; still others, in following the customs and fashions of the day, in owning the finest and latest model of an automobile; others in having the home equipped with the finest and most up-to-date furnishings; others, in clothing (or partly clothing the body with attire) that is flashy and immodest in appearance, also using paint and powder to make the face shine to catch the eyes of the and patience in seasons of trial, ever observing the Golden Rule and manifesting at all times the spirit of true Christianity. This vital command to let our light shine was not intended to apply to Church officials only, but to all who have accepted Christ as their Savior and life illuminator. Shining for Him is the means of directing souls into the haven of rest.

3. Whatever the calling, profession, or business may be that has fallen to the lot of the Christian, the same should be only of such a nature that the same can be followed, or carried on in a way that Christ may be honored, and others be led to enter the narrow way through the illuminating influences of one's constant shining for Christ.

4. As Christians we should not only aim to shine in our religious work on the Lord's day, but we will cheerfully shine for the Lord at all times and everywhere we have an opportunity to shine for Him. The "good works" which we do in helping others, whether physically, financially, or spiritually will not be done on our part to receive honor and applause, but that God be glorified, to whom all honor and glory is due because of His abounding love which has been manifested to us in a marvelous way, both in providing for our physical and spiritual needs.

Having been redeemed from sin and its destructive power through the atoning merits of Christ's shed blood, and having been adopted into God's family through Christ who said, "I am the door into the sheepfold," may we all as members of the household of faith continue to shine for Him daily regardless of our environments, our limited talents, and positions that may not seem highly favorable.

There can be no more sacred relationship than to have Jesus the Light of the world enthroned in our hearts, thus being one with Him in shining as workers with Him in this world of sin. If we with Him continue to shine daily, we will indeed be instrumental in accomplishing much good in the life of others, and thus bring glory to our kind, loving heavenly Father, both in this world and in the glory world to come.

THE CRUCIFIXION

They led Him from the judgment hall,
Where He was scorned alike, by all;
His face bore marks of silent grief,
For Him no moment of relief.

They mocked and struck Him on the head.
"Who smitest Thee?" the scorners said.
He suffered pain with every stroke,
But not a word of protest spoke.

The Cross was heavy as He walked,
The men that followed, laughed and talked;
The great, excruciating pain
Caused Him to stumble once again.

Another took the Cross and then
They traveled on once more again;
At last they reached the place of shame,
That place of horrifying fame.

They laid the Cross upon the ground;
The mocking people gathered round;
They nailed His aching body there,
Then raised the Cross into the air.

His weary head bent low with pain;
His Blood the ground below did stain;
The great rocks rent, day turned to night;
The whole earth trembled at the sight.

At last His spirit took its flight,
Thus He had broken sin's dark night.
Praise God! He banished death for aye
And introduced eternal day.

—E. M. Svacha.

"AND NOT FAINT"

"Men ought always to pray, and"—although faintness of spirit attends on prayer like a shadow—"not faint". The soil in which the prayer of faith takes root is a life of unbroken communion with God, a life in which the windows of the soul are always open towards the City of Rest. We do not know the true potency of prayer until our hearts are so stedfastly inclined to God that our thoughts turn to Him, as by Divine instinct, whenever they are set free from consideration of earthly things.—D. M. McIntyre.

"LOOK ON THE FIELDS"

By J. L. Horst

Say ye not, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest.—Jno. 4:35.

Jesus began His work with people who knew the Old Testament Scriptures and were therefore more familiar with the message He was to deliver than others were whose faith was not so near that of the Gospel of Christ. But there are a number of instances where He worked with Gentiles as well as Jews. For instance, this woman at Jacob's well belonged to a people that were at least half Gentile. The Roman centurion, the Syro-Phoenician woman, and others who were not of the Jews received the same tender care given to His own people, the Jews.

These words spoken by Jesus had to do with the incident of the Samaritan woman. The disciples had gone to buy something to eat, but Jesus was so taken up in expounding the way of life to this sinful woman that He missed His meal. When they brought Him some victuals He replied, "I have meat to eat that ye know not of." And then He commenced to talk to them about the coming harvest.

Though He talked of the harvest, it was yet wintertime. "Say ye not," said He, "There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest?" He wanted to impress them with the fact that there is another harvest, a spiritual one, that is at hand all the time. The disciples were after meat; but Christ was nourished with a kind of meat that was far more important than natural food. It is this harvest of souls that held His attention, and which should have our attention, far beyond that of the natural harvest.

Notice, He says, "They are white already to harvest." That means that there is no time to waste. When the grain first ripens it has a golden color. But later, if it is allowed to stand long enough, it turns from golden to white. The harvest that Jesus spoke of was "white," not golden. It was time they were after it. A man traveling in the Near East, seeing a field of grain that had whitened asked a native what that meant. He replied that if that grain was not cut right away it would scatter, or the birds would go after it, or the straw would break, or something else would happen that the grain would be lost or spoiled. It is just so with the harvest of souls. The Gospel dispensation is the harvest time, and if we neglect gathering in the grain immediately it will be wasted, forever wasted. As Christ said, "I must work the works of him that sent me while it is day. The night cometh when no man can work." Let us notice a few things about this harvest:

1. Delay is dangerous. Be up and doing, while you have the opportunity to work, in gathering in the spiritual harvest. There is no telling how soon the opportunity will be cut off and souls will be forever lost.

2. "Look on the fields." This suggests the idea of studying the Gospel field. As a farmer looks after that part of his harvest first that is nearest "white" for harvest, so we should look for the places in the harvest field around us demanding most urgent attention lest the souls of men be lost.

3. We should look on the fields right around us. I am not opposing the study of the foreign field. That needs attention as well as the fields right around home. But since we have these fields right around us, we should follow the Gospel order, "beginning at Jerusalem."

What does it take to view the fields, and what will be the result?

1. It takes spiritual vision. We must have the Holy Ghost within us to get a proper view of the field. It was the visions of Peter, of John, of Paul, and of the other apostles that gave them a grasp of the work before them and enabled them to work the fields with success. So we, through the Spirit want to have a real vision of the field and its opportunities, that we may work the fields intelligently and effectively.

2. We want to learn of Jesus. The disciples did not have a vision of the field until Jesus showed it to them. So we also want to go to our great Teacher, that through His Word and His Spirit He may give us a proper vision of the field. Look through the eye of Jesus if you would have a proper vision.

3. There must be a willingness to work on our part. Unless we have this we will not accomplish much, either in the form of a vision of our opportunities or in gathering in souls for the Kingdom.

4. God wants workers. There is much work to be done, and many workers are needed. As Jesus Himself says, "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few. Pray ye therefore . . . ." God wants workers who are diligent in prayers and in watching, and they will also have a vision of the field before them.

5. We want to realize that the harvest is great. India, Africa, China, South America, the Pacific Islands, Mexico, Russia, European countries, our own home land with its cities and rural sections, and our home communities, are all embraced in the great harvest field. "The harvest truly is great."

6. Results are sure to follow. "He that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal." The natural harvest is great, and it must be gathered if we wish to avoid waste. But important as this is, the spiritual harvest is greater. The harvest that is gathered is composed of immortal souls that are saved from sin and won for Christ. Only eternity will reveal the results of our labor in the great harvest field of the Lord.

7. It brings joy. "Both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together." There must be a sowing before there can be a harvest. Sometimes we reap where others have sown. Perhaps we may sow the good seed of the Gospel and others may reap the results of our efforts. But this should not t r o u b l e us. Whether we are parent, Sunday-school teacher, personal worker, minister, evangelist, let us keep on sowing the Seed of the Word. The harvest will come and we can rejoice, no matter who does the reaping. There is no need for envy or jealousy in the work of the Lord. There is work for all, and we may rejoice together in the harvest. Not only will it bring joy to us here, when we see souls gathered into the fold, but we shall have joy through all eternity, as a reward of the faithful servants who are given the glad invitation, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord."

Scottdale, Pa.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

The first and greatest commandment of our Lord is that we love—first, God, with all our hearts and minds, and then our neighbor as ourselves. Because it is a commandment, the believer should be careful to obey, for his blessings depend upon obedience. God never makes a useless statement nor does He issue a mandate that He does not expect us to heed. When He asks us to manifest love one for another, He refers, of course, to the love of God which has been shed abroad in our hearts by faith. In other words, give God a chance to love the brethren through you. That act implies yieldedness to the voice of the Holy Spirit. We rebel very often against loving our brethren. We refuse to let God love them through us. Is it any wonder that there is contention and strife and every evil thing in the church and other Christian organizations? "Perfect love casteth out fear."

Therefore, don't be afraid of the brethren; love them! The overflow of our love should be great enough to reach the unsaved. Perhaps that is why we are not reaching them. There is no overflow. "Love one another."—The Pilot.

"Blessed are the pure in heart; for they shall see God."

SEPARATION

"As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them" (Acts 13:2).

The principle of separation runs throughout all Scripture. God in His dealings with the human race teaches great spiritual lessons through the operation of the law of separation and selection. There is the separation of the good from the evil, the clean from the unclean, the righteous from the unrighteous. Abraham was separated from his kindred; the Jewish nation, from all other peoples of earth. Judah was chosen from among the twelve tribes to fill the office of the priesthood. As David was taken from the sheepcote, and Elisha from the plow—the former for the kingly, and the latter for the prophetic, office—so also was Saul of Tarsus called and separated unto God for special purposes. As a bitter opponent of the followers of Christ, he was converted on the road to Damascus when God called him by His grace. Thus the first step in separation in his life had begun. It was revealed also unto him that he had been specially selected to proclaim Christ through the preaching of the Word, and to manifest Him in life and suffering through God's abundant grace. Upon his return from Damascus, he is introduced to the brethren at Jerusalem, and later goes to his old home in Tarsus (Acts 9:30).

A great moving of God's Spirit is reported from Antioch, and Barnabas is sent from Jerusalem by the apostles to visit this city. He remains but a short time when he decides to go to Tarsus for the purpose of finding Paul and bringing him back to the scene of this great revival. After an entire year of ministry among the disciples in this important center, the voice of God is heard again, as expressed in the text, and thus another stage of separation takes place in Paul's life. He had previously been set apart as a believer and as a preacher of the Gospel. Now, in a still deeper way, he is separated to a specific missionary career, and the record of the succeeding years shows how marvelously he was used of God.

The sense of the divine call upon us should exercise a profound influence upon our lives. The very fact that God has chosen us from the world should give to us an all-consuming desire for grace necessary to honor Him in our daily walk. The Scriptures declare that "the Lord hath set apart him that is godly for Himself." It has been frequently stated that one of the meanings of sanctification is separation, but it is a mistake to suppose that this applies simply to the outward and physical. We may separate ourselves from that which is evil about us, but there is an inner separation from the defilement and pollution of sin that only the Holy Ghost can perform. We should respond gladly to the urgent call of the Spirit, "Come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, and will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty" (II Cor. 6:17, 18). — The Alliance Weekly.

PERFECT TRUST

I may not always know the way
Wherein God leads my feet;
But this I know, that 'round my path
His love and wisdom meet,
And so I rest content to know
He guides my feet where'er I go.

I may not always understand
Just why He sends to me
Some bitter grief, some heavy loss,
But, though I can not see,
I kneel, and whisper through my tears
A prayer for help, and know He hears.

My cherished plans and hopes may fail,
My idols turn to dust,
But this I know, my Father's love
Is always safe to trust:
These things are dear to me, but still Above them all I hear His will.

Oh, precious peace within my heart;
Oh, blessed rest to know
A Father's love keeps constant watch,
Amid life's ebb and flow;
I ask no more than this; I rest
Content, and know His way is best.

MENNONITE HISTORICAL REFERENCE WORKS

CENTENNIAL HISTORY OF THE MENNONITES OF ILLINOIS: 1829-1929

By Harry F. Weber

In a volume of almost 700 pages, the author traces in detail the history of the Mennonites of Illinois from the very first settlement in 1829, now more than a hundred years ago, down to the present time. He has spared no pains in preparing an accurate survey of the early prairie settlements, and traces the growth of these early settlements into the large communities with hundreds of members supporting active church organizations and charitable institutions. The story includes interesting accounts of pioneer life, together with a description of the growth of the pioneer religious life and organization of the newly arrived Mennonite immigrants from Alsace and South Germany into religious organizations with Sunday Schools, mission enterprises, young people's activities, and the like.

This volume is exhaustive, not only in covering all the nine branches within the state, but also in giving a detailed account of every congregation and institution in the various branches. The volume is encyclopedic in character, and will without doubt remain the standard work in its field. Its usefulness is much increased by maps, illustrations, statistical tables, a biographical appendix, and several extensive indices.

Attractively bound in blue cloth, gold stamped $4.00

MENNONITES OF LANCASTER CONFERENCE

By Martin G. Weaver

The author has spared no time or expense in gathering the historical matter necessary for a publication of this kind. The original purpose of this work, as related by the author, was to make a record and a comparison of the growth or decline of the many Mennonite Congregations in Lancaster County, and to compile a complete list of all bishops, ministers, and deacons with the dates and terms of service, as well as to record the location of the early meetinghouses and the dates of their erection, ending with the list of the present congregations, Sunday schools, and other departments in the service of God, as conducted by the church. This purpose has been accomplished with added historical matter of general interest.

The material is arranged by Bishop Districts and can readily be understood by all. The enlarged chapter on Sunday Schools, Missions and Charitable Institutions in the Conference district is of more than passing interest.

A chapter is devoted to the work of the Lancaster Conference. This is of vital importance and will be of interest to the entire Mennonite church body. Other Mennonite bodies located within the borders of the Lancaster Conference District are included in the history in a brief way. A chapter is devoted to the list of Church leaders in other Mennonite conferences who came originally from Lancaster Conference. Practically all the leading conferences in the United States and Canada have been affected by this emigration in earlier years.

A complete record is given of ordinations of bishops, ministers, and deacons with dates of death and ages within the Lancaster Conference District.

The book contains about 550 pages including 47 illustrations. Some of the early landmarks as well as a number of the present meetinghouses are shown by the illustrations. Size of pages 5¾ by 8¼ inches. Bound in cloth with side and back stamps in gold.

Each, Postpaid $3.00

UNAFFILIATED MENNONITE CONGREGATIONS

The following is a list of ministers of various bodies of Mennonites who adhere to the tenets of the Confession of Faith adopted by the Mennonites at Dortrecht in 1632, but have not affiliated themselves with any of the organized conferences. If we are privileged to prepare future issues of this work, we shall be glad to add to this list as we secure information enabling us to do so.

"BE HOPEFUL"

Be hopeful, though the morning brings
Naught of gladness on its wings,
And sorrow crowds the joy away,
Throughout the hours known as day.

Be hopeful, though your plight may be
A one most pitiful to see;
And if inclined to sit and mope—
Remember, have a little hope.

Be hopeful, there will come to you
A ray of sunshine breaking through
The blackened skies above your head,
So don't give up, have hope, instead.

Be hopeful of yourself, 'tis you
Who has the power of will to do;
There's naught can keep a fellow down
When hope and will remain his crown.

—Charles S. Craigie.

STRONG IN THE LORD

The one who seeks to witness for God will be willing to bear reproach for His name's sake. The Christian worker will persevere, notwithstanding all opposition and disappointments. The true soldier of Jesus Christ will not yield an inch to the foe when engaged in the warfare with sin, providing that he has learned to know Him as the source of all strength, the unfailing Savior and Friend.

If we are tempted to hold our peace for the sake of so-called unity; to be content to drift with the current of the day rather than to be persistent in our opposition to evil, we shall only find our strength to resist in a yet fuller, deeper, closer knowledge of Him.—Marching Orders.

MENNONITE PERIODICALS

A New Book on Evolution

The Inadequacy of Evolution as a World View

By Chester K. Lehman A.M., Th.B.

Price $1.25

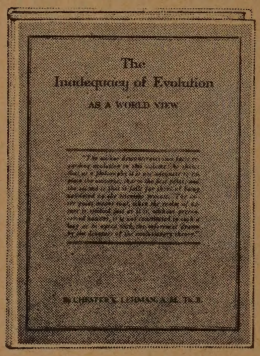
Mennonite Press

LEANDER S. KEYSER on reviewing the book says:

"One would think that this work, with a number of others of like mould and ability, ought to put the quietus on the hypothesis of evolution. We do not know of a so-called 'scientific' theory against which so many counts can be registered. There is no claim which its advocates make for it that is not thoroughly analyzed and negatived in this volume."

"Our author's theses on Christian evidence are also of a scholarly and convincing character. Being an evangelical believer, he demonstrates the reasonableness and adequacy of the Biblical account of the origin of the universe, of life and species, of man, of sin, and of redemption."

"His blows are death-dealing ones."



"Hits the theory right on the solar plexus."

"The author certainly makes his appeal to facts throughout the book. He does not deal in epithets and abuse. In most of the cases he lets the advocates of evolution state their arguments in their own way, giving direct quotations from their published volumes, with titles and pages, and then proceeds to expose their unscientific and illogical character. He has done yeoman service to the cause of scientific and Christian truth."

Cloth binding, 272 pages, size 5 x 7½ inches.

THE MOORE FOUNTAIN PEN

THE MOORE GUARANTEE

The Moore Pen Company guarantees every Moore Pen without reserve as to price, against everything but loss, provided the entire Pen with all broken parts is returned to the factory, postage paid. A charge will be made for new parts only, to replace those missing. This guarantee is unconditional.

Self-Filling

Moore's Quality With Modern Convenience

The special advantage found in this pen is its self-filling device. The pen is filled by dipping it in ink and by the use of a lever located in the barrel the ink is drawn into the barrel by suction. The mechanism is simple and durable. The pen is not immersed in ink when not in use but the same thread and sealing principle is used in closing pen. The cap is so constructed as to form a compressed air chamber over the pen point when screwed on the barrel, preventing any air or ink from escaping.

Furnished in Black Ebonjet Indestructible Barrel. Medium or fine point. No. 2 Gold Pen.

Moore Junior

A Lower Priced Pen With Moore Quality

This pen is Moore-made with an absolute guarantee of satisfaction and mechanical perfection. The difference between this Pen and the one listed above is that this barrel is made of a different material and the pen point is slightly smaller in size. But in every respect this Pen has the Moore Quality—that fine craftsmanship which evidences itself in both appearance and performance and characterizes every Moore product in every detail.

Flexi-point—14 Kt. gold with iridium tip—long-wearing, smooth and easy writing—and precision adjusted comb feed.

Furnished in Polished Black. Medium or Fine Point.
